Your Comments: Every teacher, every parent, every supervisor is aware that when the person who made a mess has to clean up their mess they are way less likely to make any other messes. The people/industries responsible for the mess must be the ones who pay for the clean up. They must be held accountable and they must not pass the buck. Do Not ask a taxpayer to clean up an industry mess. The survey that went out about this superfund site a few weeks ago had some items that appeared to fish for whether the city would pay for the clean up. NO!!! Make the industry that profited from the mess clean up their own mess. Then inspect the clean up.
